FOOD SERVICE COLLECTION

Food Scraps Collection

The EcoSafe[®] Food Service program has everything you need to set up or improve a food scraps collection program. Collecting food scraps for compost is the #1 most influential way businesses can impact climate change.

Cost Savings

Collecting food scraps for compost will decrease the volume of waste sent from your organization to landfills, which can reduce costs.

Certified Compostable Bags

EcoSafe[®] bags are strong enough to collect and carry all your food scraps without tearing or leaking. In a compost facility, they decompose as fast as a leaf.

The Right Bins

We offer compostable bags to fit your existing bins, or choose from a range of EcoSafe[®] food service bins.

Make it Easy

Get buy-in quickly using implementation strategies that are proven to smooth the transition to a efficient waste system.

About EcoSafe

EcoSafe[®] Zero Waste Inc. designs food scraps collection programs for every commercial and residential application while also providing the 100% certified compostable bags to facilitate the clean transfer of organic materials.

Diverting all organic materials from landfills drastically reduces the amount of methane gas produced, helps create a regenerative, healthy soil product (compost), and builds Zero Waste communities across North America.

HOW THE PROGRAM WORKS

Grab an EcoSafe® compostable bag from the three stream dispenser and line each bin. The 'right-sized' bag will be snug at the top and loose at the bottom.

Fill the bins with food scraps as you prepare meals and clear plates. Ideal bin placement makes this a seamless process.

Drop full bags in the main organics collection container.
